

Thanksgiving To Be Observed on Wednesday Nite

REV. W. J. PHELPS

The annual Thanksgiving services of the churches of Canyon will be held Wednesday night at 7:30 o'clock at the Presbyterian Church.

Rev. W. J. Phelps, pastor of the Assembly of God Church, will preach the sermon. Dr. Roy L. Johnson, pastor of the Baptist Church, will give the history of Thanksgiving.

Music will be furnished by the Presbyterian Choir, assisted by other singers in Canyon.

The Wednesday night Thanksgiving service was agreed upon recently by the Canyon Pastors' Association rather than the regular Thursday morning service.

All citizens of Canyon are invited to join in this Thanksgiving service.

The program follows: Rev. Hubert Thomson, president Canyon Minister's Association, presiding. Prelude, "Intermezzo" from Seedtime and Harvest by West; Processional Hymn, "Now Thank We All Our God"; Invocation; Historical Sketch of Thanksgiving by Dr. Roy L. Johnson; Hymn, "We Praise Thee, O God"; Offertory "Meditation," presentation of offering and dedication; Scripture, Psalm 116, Rev. B. E. Bollman; Prayer by Rev. Weems Dykes; Anthem "Come Ye Thankful People, Come"; Sermon, "Thanksgiving" by Rev. W. J. Phelps; Benediction and Postlude.

Peddlers Are Much Bolder in Molesting Citizens of Canyon

For several months local citizens have been pestered by magazine peddlers.

Most of the girls are washed-out blonds, who are in some kind of a fantastic contest, and need your vote—but primarily your dollars.

These solicitors are working under the guidance of a smooth young man, who keeps in the background, but shows the girls the tricks of the trade.

Now comes a swarm of gadget peddlers, who have "just been discharged from the armed forces" and are looking for sales. Most of these young chaps are very, very persistent, and some of them are outright insulting to the housewives who try to out talk them. Some of them are bold enough to try and get their foot in the door.

Those who have bought find they are stung, and stung proper.

Business houses near the highway have complained of the increasing number of beggars who are working the highways, bumming rides and trying to talk local citizens out of free meals and drinks.

A word to the wise: Don't fall for all these peddlers and chislers unless you have a pocketful of money to throw to the wild winds.

Bank Will Be Closed Thursday

The First National Bank will be closed all day Thursday, Thanksgiving Day. It will also be closed Saturday afternoon, November 27, for the football game. Please do your banking early.

Visiting in the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Amason, last week were Mr. and Mrs. G. J. Amason and daughter, Genelle, from Corpus Christi, and Mrs. Virgil Briscoe of Kerrville.

What? No Suggestions As to How Your Newspaper May Be Improved?

Last week The News called upon readers to write us a letter telling us how The Canyon News may be improved. The staff held its breath when this request was made. We thought that we would receive a whole flock of criticisms and suggestions.

Not a single suggestion has been received! But we have received verbal compliments as to the type of newspaper we are producing.

Is The Canyon News filling the bill? Are we getting out as good a paper as you would expect to find in a town the size of Canyon? Can we improve this paper to meet your needs?

Newspaper men often complain that their readers know more about running a newspaper than the publishers themselves! Certainly we have not found this true in Canyon. The people have been very, very considerate of our efforts, but honestly, we would like to have some letters.

Write one today, and tell us what you would like to have in the paper which we are overlooking.

State Approved Bond Issue For Canyon Schools

Attorney General Price Daniel phoned Supt. E. A. Wooten Saturday that he was approving the bond issue which was voted several weeks ago by the voters of the Canyon Independent School District.

The bonds were held up for several weeks while court decisions were being studied as to consolidations of school districts in other counties.

Judge Jimmie Witherspoon, who handled the consolidation proceedings from a legal standpoint, furnished the information which was required to complete the bond issue.

The State Board of Education has bought the $100,000 bond issue which will draw interest at 3%. The money will be available about the first of January, according to word from Austin.

The school has largely completed the improvement program which made the $100,000 bond issue necessary.

18 Agricultural Practices Approved For 1949 Program

Members of the various community committeemen and the County Agent met with the Randall County Agricultural Conservation Committee last Friday to discuss the 1949 Farm Program and to select the conservation practices applicable to Randall county for next year. Eighteen practices were chosen out of a possible thirty-eight which are approved for the State.

Total amount of program funds available for Randall county for the current year was $57,800 of which all but about $3,000 has been used to date.

The amount available for conservation practices under the 1949 program has been increased to $72,000.

This increase in the money available for soil conservation work will enable the county committee to approve more of the conservation practices, such as, terracing, pasture seeding, contouring and the like. The eighteen practices selected by the committeemen as being of most importance in the 1949 Program include terracing, pasture seeding, contouring, building dams, chiseling, bindweed control and others.

Committeemen who will assist in the administration of the Agricultural Conservation and Price Support programs in 1949 will be elected in December, according to W. H. Upchurch, secretary to the county committee.

Lions Hear Leon Stoelzing

Leon Stoelzing, instructor in the Department of Music, WTSC, presented the program at Lions Club, November 18. The program consisted of several violin selections. Miss Matilda Gaume, also of WTSC was accompanist for Mr. Stoelzing.

John Curd, Austin, Texas was a guest of Lion McGregor.

Just recently the club has placed luminous highway signs on all highways leading into Canyon. The Lions official highway sign consists of a large cut-out of the Lions emblem, 30 inches in diameter, accompanied by a rectangular panel which bears the name of the town, and time and place of meetings of the Lions Club.

Dowlen Car Is Recovered After Trip to El Paso

John Williams of Killeen is in jail here pending a $1500 bond which was set Monday. He is charged with the theft of the C. M. Dowlen car, stolen from the front of the Dowlen home last Tuesday.

Williams was picked up by an alert station operator at Pecos. He claims that he had driven the car to El Paso and was on his way back to Canyon "to return the car."

Williams had taken the 1948 license plates from the car and substituted another set, tying on the rear plate with bailing wire. When he drove into a service station and offered to trade a new casing for gasoline, the attendant became suspicious and called officers who held Williams until Sheriff M. E. Cantrell and Mr. Dowlen could drive down to claim the car.

No damage was done to the car.

Newsman Will Be on Two Radio Shows Next Sunday a. m.

Lewis Nordyke of the Amarillo News-Globe called the Newsman Monday morning and insisted that he come to Amarillo that night to make a transcription for Lewis' Sunday morning program which he puts on at 8:15.

Lewis is interested in the request made last week for suggestions from the readers as to how the Canyon News may be improved. Well, we went to Amarillo, but had little to tell since we had not received a single letter, either of approval or disapproval.

While there, Lewis roped us in on another of his programs, which he puts on with his old Edison talking machine. Uncle Jay is supposed to help Lewis out on this program, but failed to show up to make the transcription. At any rate we helped Lewis out—as best we could, having never heard this program. At least he says he has over a thousand records for the old Edison, which have been sent to him from all over the Southwest.

Visiting this week in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Felix Pierce and Alice are Mrs. Pierce's mother and sister, Mrs. Susie Rushing of Floydada, and Mrs. T. M. Jones of Lubbock.

Mrs. S. L. Ingham and her grandson, Bob Word, spent last week-end with Mrs. Ingham's daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Millard Word, on the SJ Ranch near Ashtola.

Matilda Gaume Guest Soloist November 30

On Tuesday, November 30, the Amarillo Philharmonic Orchestra is coming to Canyon, under the sponsorship of the Music Arts Club. Featured soloist for the concert will be Miss Matilda Gaume, piano teacher in the Music Department at West Texas State Teachers College, who will play the Grieg Piano Concerto.

As all who have heard her know, Miss Gaume is well qualified as a pianist. She studied at the famous Juilliard School of Music in New York under Madame Samaroff-Stokowski. Madame Samaroff-Stokowski, incidentally, was also the teacher of Battista and Walter Kappell, guest artists with the Amarillo Philharmonic Orchestra this year.

Miss Gaume graduated from the University of Wichita, her home town, and took her Master's Degree from Northwestern University, where she studied with Harold Van Horn. She taught in schools in Illinois and Michigan before coming to Canyon.

In the Amarillo Orchestra, three Canyonites play first chair positions: Mr. Leo Stoelzing of the college Music Department plays as Principal of the violin section; Mr. William Latson, a student at the college, plays at the First Chair position in the trombone section; and Mr. Glenn Truax plays First position in the double bass section. Other residents of Canyon who play in the orchestra are Mr. Jerry Newman of the Music Department and Mr. Charles Howard.

The Amarillo Philharmonic Symphony is directed by its newly appointed conductor, Mr. A. Clyde Roller, a man with unusual qualifications for the job, and a man who charms his audiences. He is a native Oklahoman, having received his early schooling and musical training in that state. Scholarships in oboe and conducting won him advanced training at the Eastman School of Music, Rochester, New York, and the Berkshire Music Festival, sponsored and conducted by the Boston Symphony Orchestra under Dr. Serge Koussevitsky. For three years Mr. Roller served under Dr. Victor Alessandaro as assistant conductor of the Oklahoma State Symphony. Following the close of hostilities in Europe, he achieved outstanding success conducting the G. I. Symphony in Paris; in this orchestra were musicians from all the leading orchestras in the United States.

Tickets for the Canyon concert are now on sale, with the main sales desk at Thompson Hardware. Mrs. Glenn Dowlen is in charge of sales at the Canyon Public School, and Mr. Jerry Newman at the College.

The board started out with the idea of meeting once a month. Due to the large number of men to be processed it has been necessary to meet twice monthly. So far the calls have been very light, and volunteers count against the calls made from the counties. It is likely that after the holidays calls will come faster.

Mr. McReynolds states that many Randall county boys have taken their physical examinations at the new headquarters in Amarillo and are in line for induction when they may be needed by the armed forces.

No Damage To Wheat Result Thursday Blow

Little damage resulted from the high wind which swept over Randall county Thursday. The wind reached 60 miles per hour at times during the day. The blow started early in the morning and continued until after midnight.

Practically no damage was done to the wheat crop, according to reports received from over the county since the blow. However such days do no good to either man or beast.

While only a trace of moisture was received in Randall county during the blast, it is reported that heavy snows fell in Colorado, Kansas and neighboring states. Considerable damage was done in those sections.

No Men Inducted Into the Army in New Selective Draft

Randall county has been called upon for only one man under Selective Service so far, stated Ray McReynolds Tuesday. This man was given a 60 day deferment in order to get ready for induction.

Mr. McReynolds is a member of the 4-county board, comprising Randall, Deaf Smith, Castro and Parker counties. Headquarters are in Hereford.

The board started out with the idea of meeting once a month. Due to the large number of men to be processed it has been necessary to meet twice monthly. So far the calls have been very light, and volunteers count against the calls made from the counties. It is likely that after the holidays calls will come faster.

Mr. McReynolds states that many Randall county boys have taken their physical examinations at the new headquarters in Amarillo and are in line for induction when they may be needed by the armed forces.

Report of Water Survey Received But Not Public

The Farm Bureau Water Committee has just received a preliminary report on the water resources study made by the geologists Keplinger and Wanemacher of Tulsa, Oklahoma.

While the report is not entirely complete and has not been printed, as yet, it is apparent that much valuable data has been assembled on which the geologists are able to calculate the probable extent of irrigation development possible in the north and west part of Randall county.

This is the first authentic survey of water resources in this area ever to be made for the land owners.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Blackburn, Lynn and Susan from Amarillo, had dinner Sunday evening in the home of Mrs. Blackburn's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Murray.

County Election Returns Lost in Mail to Austin

Randall county's election returns were lost in the mails between Canyon and Austin.

The Secretary of State reported that the returns from this county, together with five other Panhandle counties, had not been received on closing date for canvassing the returns on November 17.

The Amarillo Times first reported the missing returns, which included Randall, Potter, Ochiltree, Hall, Hansford and Hemphill counties. A hurried check indicated that the returns had not been mailed in time for the count from some of the counties.

The case from Randall county was different. The Commissioners Court canvassed the returns at its regular meeting on November 8. Judge Burney Slack signed all of the reports on Nov. 9 and these were mailed to the Secretary of State on Nov. 9 by County Clerk T. H. Lair.

The News checked with Austin only to find that the missing returns had not been received by the Secretary of State.

The only change that will be made in any of the issues will be the total votes cast. Randall county citizens voted in about the same proportion for all officials as those in other counties of the state.

The missing vote will make no difference in local races since the vote of Randall county is a matter of record and will not affect the balance of the state.

Street Lights Will Go Up on First December

Christmas lights will go up in Canyon about the first of December.

The Chamber of Commerce owns strings of lights which will be put up by the crew of the Southwestern Public Service Company.

It is hoped that a sufficient amount of material may be secured to increase the number of light strings this year, and perhaps include decorations on the court house.

Citizens of Canyon are requested to start decorating their homes for Christmas right after Thanksgiving.

Noted Author, Minister, Speaks Here November 30, December 1, 2

The Willson Lectures for 1948 will be given by Reverend Edgar Dewitt Jones, D.D., Litt.D., of Detroit, Michigan.

Announcement was made yesterday of the guest speaker who will appear before the students of West Texas State November 30 and December 1 and 2.

"Faith of Our Fathers," will be the initial lecture topic scheduled for 10 o'clock, November 30 in the Administration Auditorium.

Wednesday morning, December 1, students will hear Dr. Jones talk on "Exploring Certain Biographies." This will take place at the 10 o'clock period. Wednesday night at 8 o'clock he will address the audience on "Adventuring Among Great Orators."

The final speech by the noted lecturer will come in assembly Thursday, December 2 at 10 o'clock. His topic will be "Silhouettes of Our Presidents."

Outstanding in the church world, Dr. Jones was for 26 years minister of Central Woodward Christian Church in Detroit and is now minister emeritus of that church.

Prior to his association with religious work in Michigan, the guest speaker was minister of the First Christian Church of Bloomington, Illinois for 14 years.

A member of the staff of The Detroit News for many years, Dr. Jones represented that newspaper as foreign correspondent in 1923 and 1935. His column entitled "Successful Living" has appeared on the editorial page of The Detroit News for some 10 years.

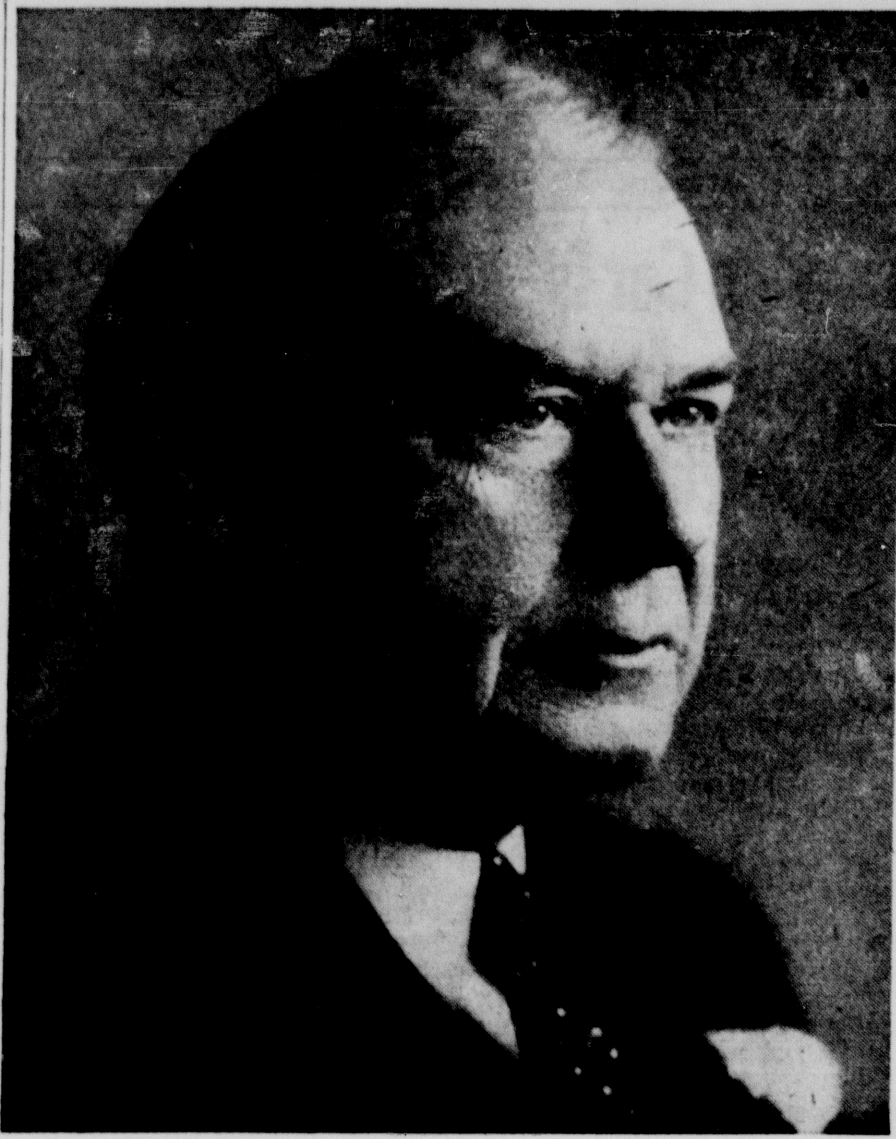

The Michigan lecturer was president of the Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America from 1936 to 1938, exchange minister to Scotland in 1932, and president of the Association for Christian Unity for 10 years. He has always been active in cooperation and ecumenical movements among the churches. Dr. Jones has spoken on many platforms, lecturing on Americana and especially in the realm of Lincolniana. He has published 14 volumes and Harper and Brothers of New York are now bringing out his first full-length Lincoln book entitled "Lincoln and the Preachers."

Two of Dr. Jones' books that have attracted wide attention are "Lords of Speech" and "American Preachers of Today."

A member of The National Committee of 100 Against Intolerance, the Willson speaker has made numerous addresses before high school and college groups under the sponsorship of The National Conference of Christian and Jews.

The "Dewey team" that was all set to take over in Washington is gradually to break up, with its members moving out into jobs in private business. Key aides had their jobs in the Government all staked out. Even secretaries had picked their spots and sometimes quarreled about them.

Pictured above is Edgar Dewitt Jones who will deliver the addresses in the 1948 Willson Lectures. Dr. Jones will make his first appearance Tuesday, November 30. He will speak again on December 1 and 2.

Short name: Max Itz.
He runs a tobacco shop in San Antonio.

San Antonio really abounds in the picturesque. Its sidewalk "characters" are colorful. One has long, thick hair like Buffalo Bill; he even has a mustache and goatee. He plays a fiddle but, instead of using a bow, picks it as though it were a guitar.

And there is a pencil vendor who looks like an Old Testament prophet; his beard is long and flowing, and his hair reaches six inches below his shoulders.

Desdemona had a home coming a while back. When that Eastland County town was in the midst of a rich oil field, things were exciting, even baseball games.

One day, an umpire made a decision that aroused a group who had bet on the game, so out on the field they came in such a threatening way that he reversed his ruling.

The next game, the same umpire made the group sore again and out they came once more. The umpire yanked a six-shooter from his hip pocket, marched them back to the sideline, dusted off the home plate and yelled "Play ball!"

There was no more trouble. Incidentally Desdemona, after years of inactivity, is seeing wells drilling in every direction, seeking deeper sands than the one which produced during the boom of 1919-21. Maybe the old town will see a comeback.

Now that it's over, the job of telling how an election is coming out is succeeded by the difficulty of explaining why it didn't.

Resolve now to leave the land more fertile than you found it.

Once upon a time a traveling man stopped in a town to look up an old friend. After searching two days he finally, much to his surprise, found the friend in jail. The friend said he would be "in" for six months. Then the traveling man asked, "What's the charge?"

"No charge—everything here is free," said the friend.

The one thing that won't help you through the winter is a lot of talk. So we'll make it brief:

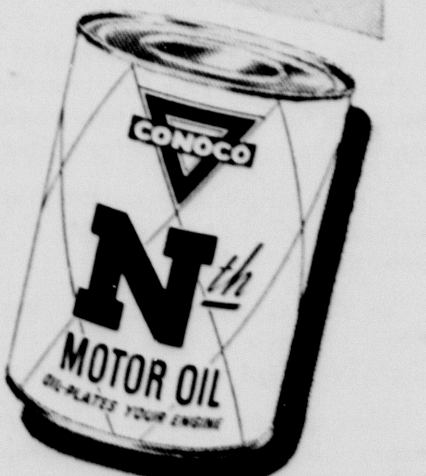

Change now to winter-grade Conoco N# Motor Oil for faster starts, peak winter engine performance and the full-time protection of OIL-PLATING.

Faster starts: Winter-grade N# is specially refined to lubricate your engine even when the temperature plunges. It's free-flowing.

Peak winter performance: When you drain out that thick, dirty summer oil, you say goodbye to balky engine response. Winter-grade N# puts June under the hood!

Full-time protection: A special added ingredient fastens an extra protective film of lubricant to metal surfaces... OIL-PLATES every working part... cuts down "dry" friction starts and general engine wear.

Page-Stone Ballet Team Captures Hearts of America With Dances

WILL DANCE AT W. T. ON DECEMBER 3—

Her father, Dr. Lafayette Page, whose forebears emigrated in covered wagons over the Cumberland Mountains from Virginia into Kentucky, was a distinguished surgeon and founder of the James Whitcomb Riley Hospital. Her mother is an accomplished musician.

At an early age Ruth learned to love poetry through the daily reading of it with her father. Like most children, she found delight in spontaneous dancing; and at the age of twelve began to study it formally. Soon afterward she attracted the attention of Anna Pavlova, and danced with her on her last South American tour. Affiliated more than a year with Pavlova, she returned to the United States and though still in school continued her studies with Adolph Bolm.

Not long after the close of the first season, early in 1925, Miss Page continued her studies with Maestro Cecchetti at Monte Carlo and was subsequently engaged by Diaghileff Ballet Russe. In the summer of the same year she revisited Buenos Aires with Mr. Bolm as premiere danseuse of the Municipal Opera Company in the Colon Theatre.

Then came her successes, for seven seasons, as ballet mistress of the Ravinia Opera Company, America's rival to the Salzburg Festival.

During the winter seasons of 1926-27 and 1927-28 Miss Page became the first American guest solo dancer to be engaged by the Metropolitan Opera Company in New York. In 1928 she made her first Oriental tour with a small company, giving twenty-five performances in the ceremonies attending the enthronement of Emperor Hirohito in Tokyo and continuing her tour in China, Siam and Bali. The Soviet Government in 1939 commissioned her to come to Moscow where she presented a series of "American Dances" before the workers' societies.

In 1934 Miss Page became the Ballet Director of the revived Chicago Grand Opera Company, and continued to serve as director and premiere danseuse in 1935-6-7. During these years she and Mr. Stone, who had joined her as principal male dancer, performed in full-length ballets of her own creation. Miss Page was the first dancer to inaugurate all-ballet evenings with a major American opera company.

In the summer 1935 Miss Page and Mr. Stone toured the summer theatres of New England in duos-concerts. Other concert tours have followed. Early in 1936 Miss Page introduced her ballets to New York; and in the summer of 1936 she was Ballet Director and first dancer of the Cincinnati Opera Company. In the spring of 1937 she made the first tour for an American dancer of the Scandinavian countries.

By 1938 the Page-Stone Ballet Company was a reality. Composed of over thirty dancers it toured in its first season over 4,000 miles in nearly forty performances. During the fall of 1937 Miss Page had been asked by the Federal Theatre to appear as a guest actress in the leading role of an Eugene O'Neill play. Miss Page accepted and became enthusiastic over the opportunity to share in creating a national theatre which the Federal Theatre Project seemed to offer. She persuaded Mr. Stone to join her, and in 1938 and 1939 they staged and danced two

Thanksgiving

WHAT IT MEANS

We call to mind an old country preacher who, back in our boyhood, helped straighten us out on Thanksgiving.

"Most people," he said, "think they're thankful when they are complacent and satisfied. That is often the trouble with counting our blessings. We end up being smug. Thanksgiving Day is a mockery if we just spend it admiring the family sterling and bone china and gorging ourselves until we stagger. Thanksgiving is no time to reflect with quiet self-satisfaction upon our material possessions and our appetites.

"No, life is insecure at best and the last Thursday in November is as good a time as any to remember that we still have a chance to help a distressed neighbor, to enjoy the blessings of useful work, to give a friendly word to the passer-by, to take happiness in a baby's smile or a mother's soothing presence, to remember that life is a journey, not a goal, and from the depths of our hearts to give thanks that we can be of service to others—for service is the rent we pay for the space we occupy on earth."

THANKSGIVING

On that First Thanksgiving Day, the Pilgrims offered thanks for the preservation of their lives and the happiness which resulted from a good crop.

Today we have many more things for which we can be thankful — friends, neighbors, freedom of thought and action, and freedom of worship.

This Canyon firm is very thankful for the splendid business that you have given us, and we trust that we shall have contributed much to the blessing of your Thanksgiving through the services we have rendered.

Amarillo Philharmonic Concert Group Appears Here November 30

West Texas State students will have an opportunity to hear the Amarillo Philharmonic in a concert on the campus Tuesday night, November 30 at 8 o'clock.

The program of this 70 piece orchestra under the direction of A. Clyde Roller is being brought to the campus by the Canyon Music Arts Club.

Guest soloist for the concert will be Matilda Gaume of the West Texas State Piano Department. She will play "Concerto in A Minor" by Greig.

A. Clyde Roller is the new director of the orchestra and has drilled the group intently on giving the plains area music of a high standard. He came to Amarillo from Oklahoma City where he was assistant conductor. Prior to that post he was conductor of the G. I. Philharmonic Orchestra in Paris, English horn soloist with Andre Kostalovetz and former director of the Southern Methodist University Band.

Included in the numbers to be presented are: "Die Fleidermouse Overture" by Strauss, "Bolero" by Ravel, Berlioz's "March Hungroise," and Sibelius' "Valse Trieste."

West Texas State personnel in the orchestra are Jerry Newman, violinist; Lewis Stoelzing, violin; Charles Howard, oboe, and Bill Latson, trombone.

Sale of reserved seats is now underway and tickets may be purchased by mail from Margaret Harper, Canyon.

Tickets may also be purchased at the Band House from Jerry Newman or Lewis Stoelzing. Mrs. Glenn Dowlen is in charge of tickets at Thompson Hardware.

Admission is $1.20 for adults and 60 cents for students.

Tolliver Attends State Convention

Crannell Tolliver, Head of the Department of Speech at West Texas State, will attend the state convention of the Texas Speech Association in Dallas during the Thanksgiving holidays. The convention serves to iron out difficulties and compare the views of speech teachers of the state.

The principal speaker for this year's convention will be Dr. Kenneth C. Hance of the School of Speech of Northwestern University, Evanston, Illinois.

Mr. Tolliver stated that he will also attend the meeting of the Association's Executive Committee of which he is a member.

New Parking Area Aids Car Problem

Hard-surfacing of the parking lots behind the Administration Building was completed last week. The main purpose of this was to relieve the parking congestion of the narrow campus street in front of the Speech Arts and Band Buildings.

Students and faculty are asked to park their cars in this new parking area and please refrain from parking on the aforementioned crowded and dangerous street.

Cornettes Appear in Borger At Boy Scout Banquet

Dr. and Mrs. James P. Cornette will be in Borger, Monday night, November 22 to attend a Ladies Night Banquet of the Adobe Walls Boy Scout Council.

Mrs. Smythe-Smythe gave her husband a neat little kiss on the back of his bald head. Shocked out of his newspaper, he said irritably: "That's the second time you've kissed me, dear, in four months." This year we approach Thanksgiving in the devout spirit of our Puritan ancestors who gave thanks for what, today, would seem very meager blessings. Our spirit is humble as we express gratitude for the mighty heritage which is ours to defend—and we are grateful for the Victories which are coming to us—and for the Victories which must yet come before the forces of evil are vanquished.

For the blessings which are ours—Freedom of Speech and of Worship—we give thanks; and pray that we may be truly worthy of these blessings.

Speech Meeting Set December 11

High School Students
Guest of College's Speech Arts Facilities

A Speech Festival and Conference to be held on the campus of West Texas State on Saturday, December 11, is slated to be a progressive step in the advancement of public school speech in this area. Invitations have been sent to speech students, teachers and school administrators of 134 high schools in an area covering 42 counties in Texas, New Mexico and Oklahoma.

The Department of Speech has succeeded in securing a distinguished group of guest critics and conference leaders for the occasion.

Critics for the Speech Festival will include Dr. Keith E. Case, of the School of Speech of the University of Denver and Earl E. Bradley, noted head of the Speech Department at Panhandle A. & M., Goodwell, Oklahoma.

Dr. Ernest H. Rolston, Education Consultant of the School Health Service Division of the Texas State Department of Health, will be here to discuss the hearing, speech, and other problems of handicapped children.

There will be four radio broadcasts during the Festival. Lew Preston, station KVAI, Amarillo, will present his "Breakfast Roundup" from the campus from 8:00 to 8:30 a. m. The radio speaking entries will be presented over station KAMQ in a program to be broadcast from 10:00 to 10:30 a. m. At 12 o'clock noon Monte Rosenwald will bring his "Man on the Street" to the campus. To complete the activities of the day, KFDD will present at 4:30 p. m., the presentation "Junior Town Meeting of the Air." All these broadcasting activities will emanate from the Speech Arts Building.

"Every high school in this area will find the activities of the day profitable ones, and every speech teacher should find some phase of the discussion to be geared to his own particular needs," asserted Crannell Tolliver, Speech Department Head.

Bufs Face New Mexico Lobos in Last Home Game

The West Texas State Buffaloes will close the home schedule of the 1948 season at Buffalo Stadium Saturday afternoon.

The game will be the fifth Border Conference start for the Buffs this season. New Mexico University will be met in a vital game for both teams, and a game which will mean much to both of the teams.

The Buffs have won one Border Conference game and lost three games. The Buffs won over Arizona State of Flagstaff in the season's opener, but lost to Texas Tech, Texas College of Mines and Hardin-Simmons University.

In non-conference games the Buffs have a better record, defeating Abilene Christian College, Hardin College and Houston University. The Team lost to North Texas State and East Texas State. There is one more non-conference game to play, when the Buffs meet Corpus Christi University at Corpus Christi on December 4.

Five Buffaloes will be playing their last game before homefolks: Marvin Bowman of Lefors, Cloyce Box of Fort Worth, Homer Garrett of Borger, Lloyd Johnson of Wheeler, Boyd Williams of Wellington, are all seniors.

The team has been greatly handicapped by injuries since the second game at Lubbock. Eddie Conner of Floydada broke his leg in the Houston University game and Pete Bromley is out for the balance of the season with a bad knee. In practically every game the Buffs have three or more first string men on the bench with injuries.

Coach Frank Kimbrough scouted the New Mexico team when it was defeated at Lubbock Saturday by Texas Tech. The visitors will be out next Saturday to avenge the 28 to 19 defeat which was handed them last year by the Buffs.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank B. Wood from Mexia, Texas are here visiting with their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. M. S. Downing.

Rotary Club Will Hold Rotary Ann Dinner Dec. 6th

The Rotary Club will hold its annual Rotary Ann dinner at the Methodist Church at 7 o'clock on the night of December 6.

Dr. Roy L. Johnson was in charge of the program Tuesday and spoke on Thanksgiving. Preceding his message, Dr. Johnson showed a number of pictures which he had taken. Those taken in the Palo Duro State Park were much more colorful than any he showed from New Mexico, Arizona or Arkansas. In addition to those taken in the Park, a number of views on the campus were thrown on the screen.

Thanksgiving did not start in America, but the scriptures recite days of thanksgiving back in ancient Israel, stated the speaker.

Before the Pilgrims landed they signed the Mayflower compact which was the basis for law and order in the new country. After their first crop in 1621 the first Thanksgiving was held, in spite of the privations of the Pilgrims.

Thanksgiving was held at intervals until peace was signed in 1784. An early act of Washington was to set aside Thanksgiving Day. This was interrupted by the Civil War. In 1864 Lincoln proclaimed the last Thursday in November as Thanksgiving Day. This was not changed until 1939 when Roosevelt set the third Thursday in November for Thanksgiving. This caused so much confusion that after three years Congress passed the first bill establishing Thanksgiving Day on the 4th Thursday in November.

Dr. Johnson traced the influence of religion on the new nation. Today this is the only nation without an established church. "Christianity accounts for the genius of America," was the conclusion of the speaker. "America is greater because America is good," was the conclusion of a Frenchman who visited us.

President Truman Lets It Be Known That He Will Be Boss

President Truman has let it be known that he is going to be "the boss" during his term of office.

He is sure that he won re-election, or rather election to his first full term, almost single handed. Therefore he is going to run the show in Washington.

Truman went into office under a tragic handicap. The war had not been won. President Roosevelt was in the White House. The magnetism of FDR was felt throughout the world. Truman was selected as vice president against his own will and against his judgment. But the longer he was president the better he liked the job. He had little to do with world conditions up to the time of Roosevelt's death. As a matter of record he was seldom consulted by the White House. He inherited a full corps of appointees. Although he fired Henry Wallace and others who were equally as distasteful to him, Truman kept on the men whom Roosevelt had selected.

Now it is going to be different.

Truman feels that he goes back to the White House with a mandate from the people. He has let it be known that he will not seek another term. He is going to do his dead level best to make the nation a good President. The people are with him, and will remain with him so long as he keeps control of the government.

The best of luck, Mr. President.

Thanksgiving Day Brings Much In the Way of Blessings

This is Thanksgiving.

The day is one of great importance to Americans wherever they may be in the world. It is a day which has been observed by our nation since the few colonists set aside the day of prayer and thankfulness for the protecting hand of a kind providence.

Americans have much for which they may give thanks today.

The nation as a whole has enjoyed a great amount of prosperity. There are few people who cannot look back and declare that they are not better off today than they were a year ago. In spite of gloomy prospects for the future, and predictions of hard times ahead, today is a bright and happy day in the lives of most people.

Enjoy your Thanksgiving day.

School Reforms in Texas

Down at Austin a legislative committee has been studying school problems for the past year. Under ordinary conditions such reports are junked by succeeding legislatures. There is always a large turnover in legislative membership, and the new bunch has ideas all of his own. But State Superintendent L. A. Woods is out in opposition to the proposals. Woods has been riding the educational range for a long, long time in Texas. He relies the schools with an iron hand, and makes the educators like his ideas. Legislators have been after the scalp of L. A. Woods for years, but he sits tight in the saddle. Perhaps his condemnation of the educational reforms will do more to bring about these reforms than his endorsement might have obtained. Folks are funny about their friends and their foes.

Those Lost Election Returns

Randall county citizens lost their vote in the November election. But it was not the fault of the county officials. The returns were mailed to Austin on November 9. For some reason the Secretary of State failed to receive the returns. However, no damage was done, either way. Randall county voted like the balance of the state, and therefore the lack of our vote would only have changed the totals. This applied only to the general election, and not to the ill-fated August primary where there was such a scuffle for votes both by Lyndon Johnson and Coke Stevenson.

Should Re-appoint Harrell

Governor Jester should re-appoint Newton Harrell to the Board of Regents for Teachers Colleges. No regent has ever devoted more time and thought to his job than Newton Harrell. He is held in the highest regard by all Texans who have had anything to do with educational problems.

The News force is taking a well deserved Thanksgiving Day, free from work. It is seldom that a newspaper, even a small weekly newspaper like this one, can actually close up shop and have a day free from labor. Yet on this holiday we cannot keep from the reflection that it is only four more weeks until Christmas; and five more weeks until January 1st, inventory time.

A Negro killed the sheriff down at Ralls in October of last year. He is still in jail waiting final action of the courts. As a comparison, look at the case over at Tucuman: A Mexican assaulted a young girl. In just four days he was in the penitentiary. Just why all this delay of justice in Texas?

When the Christmas lights go up, don't be a vandal. Don't steal or break the globes. Christmas lights are still very, very scarce, and expensive. Let's make Canyon more beautiful by Christmas lighting. People become discouraged when thoughtless persons destroy their lights.

One fine thing we admire in all Americans. We get all steamed up over a football game, but as soon as play is over and the shouting dies, we look forward to the next game.

If ya' make a mistake, brand it special before ya' let it go, so ya' kin cut it out at the next round-up.

Air Force expansion put at 21,000 planes, 502,000 men.

Will the Greed and Graft of China Sink the Nationalists?

What about China?

Are we going to allow the Reds to move in and take over that vast country?

The people of America have been wondering a lot about what will happen in that unfortunate country which has been in war for eight long years.

There is a deep sympathy for the Nationalists. Their armies are being pushed by the Reds. Perhaps few people understand all of the trouble which confront our leaders, as well as the leaders in China.

To get mixed up too much in the affairs of China might lead Stalin to take drastic action in Germany. As in World War II, America has two fronts which are being threatened by the Reds.

We know that Stalin is encouraging the Reds in China. Perhaps we are making great strides in Japan, getting that country ready to help defend itself from the advancing Reds. MacArthur has a pretty good iron curtain all of his own, and little news is coming out as to what he is trying to do with the resources of Japan.

On the other hand, the other front is becoming more tangled than ever before. Stalin made a great mistake in allowing our air force to become so strong in Europe that it could defend itself until help got across the ocean. On the other hand, his Red forces in China may be making a good showing, but at the same time we must recall that the Reds of China are fighting forces of greed and graft, which have stolen America blind whenever we have dealings with them. Maybe that is why the administration has not poured more money into China.

It is now pretty evident that our Marines are going to protect American interests in China, and the Reds may respect our rights there. If the Reds behave themselves and the Nationalists continue their grafting, China may be under Red control before we realize what is happening.

Armed forces cannot fight on empty stomachs. Perhaps Stalin knows how handicapped his Red forces would be so far away from home, and is not giving too much aid to the Reds in China. But he is doing enough to make us pretty sore at him.

What Will Congress Do When The New Term of Truman Starts

As President Truman starts his first full term in office, we are wondering about the attitude of Congress. Since this is not wartime, Truman will not have a rubber stamp Congress as Roosevelt enjoyed.

Already there are rumblings against certain policies of the President.

The Southern Democrats are not convinced that the people are willing to swallow the President's Civil Rights program, regardless of what he submits to the law makers.

The Republicans are disgruntled with the leadership of Taft, and threaten a house cleaning in the Senate.

It is entirely possible that there could result a combination of revolting Democrats and Republicans which would virtually tie the hands of the President. That is being forecast in Washington. But since the days of predictions are largely in the dog-house, no one will stand up and say for sure just what all of this is about.

Senator Barkley is being depended upon to guide the Senate over the rough spots. But there is little that the presiding officer or the White House can do when Congress goes on a rampage.

Only time will tell.

Truman Likes Herbert Hoover

Perhaps you would think that President Truman was very bitter toward former president Herbert Hoover. Truman threw barbs into Hoover throughout the campaign. But this was all politics. The President is very fond of Hoover. Hoover visited Truman in the White House for the first time after Roosevelt's death. Truman knows just how strong Hoover is with the people, and will take advantage of his long experience in dealing with public affairs.

President Truman did not hesitate to reward John Foster Dulles, Republican, who advised Dewey on foreign affairs. That was a fine thing to do. The future welfare of America is not in the hands of one political party. Perhaps there are some Democrats who would have been as successful as Dulles in handling UN matters, but we doubt it. Roosevelt selected two Republicans as key men in his cabinet during the war. Truman would make no mistake in following his example.

The so-called reformers of elections in Texas are determined to eliminate the numbers placed on election ballots. Some folks have the idea that all election officials have to do is check the numbers on the back of the ballots against names on the poll lists and see how each person votes. That is a very silly attitude. Election officials have something more important to do than indulge in idle curiosity.

No one enjoys high winds, like we had Thursday. That is one thing to which Panhandle folks never become accustomed, regardless of the length of time they have lived here. Fortunately the good rains, followed by warm weather, started the wheat and little damage was reported.

Former President Herbert Hoover has been making a study of our rapidly expanded federal government. He has reported and according to his recommendation, billions would be saved by following his recommendation. How? In starving the faithful Democrats?

Old Tojo gets the rope after one of the longest trials in history. It seems that all evidence possible to dig up regarding the war was put in the record.

It doesn't pay to be so busy doing so many things that you forget what you are supposed to be doing.

Governor Urges 'Silent Guest' Plan To Aid Starving Families in Europe

On Thanksgiving Day the American Silent Guest Plan for relief to distressed Europe will be inaugurated over the nation for a second consecutive year, Governor Beauford H. Jester has announced.

The Governor has proclaimed the month November 25 to December 25 as Silent Guest Plan month in Texas.

Last year's drive netted $1,400 for Texas's share of the aid to Europe's poverty-stricken people — war orphans, widows and old folks. The Governor expressed confidence that donations will exceed those collected last year.

As projected through the nation, this plan calls for each American family to invite a "Silent Guest" to eat at his table for one month, sharing in a Thanksgiving and a Christmas dinner.

Mindful of the fact that it would cost a family approximately $30 to feed a guest for one month, the Governor suggested that those families with limited incomes may "share" a Thanksgiving meal, or that and a Christmas dinner.

After calculating the cost for feeding this extra person, the family may mail a check or money order, covering that sum, to the Governor's Office in Austin. The collections will be forwarded then to Committee headquarters for purchase of food packages from the non-profit government - approved organization, CARE, for delivery to needy families in Europe, Governor Jester said.

CARE, the Cooperative for American Remittances to Europe, Inc., was chosen by the American Silent Guest Committee last year to handle the funds because it represents all the major religious and nationality groups, and is the only organization of its kind so comprehensive in scope.

Labor and Management Must Team Up to Fight Against Depressions in the Future Says Roger Babson

By Roger W. Babson

BABSON PARK, Mass.—The recent election returns packed a wallop lesson for every wage worker and every employer.

The Next Depression

The pollsters have had their say. Political flags remain at halfmast. Post mortems are even at this late date being performed. Generally, we have been told that three factors in particular cost Mr. Dewey the election: (1) the Eightieth Congress, (2) the rural drift from Dewey to Truman, and (3) the quiet but all-out drive by organized labor to oust Republican congressmen. These last two forces are indeed potent in our national economy and must be more carefully reckoned within our 1948-52 structure of living.

Perhaps the time has come for me to make a prediction or two myself! Let the chips fall where they will. I should like to remind you that the panic of 1873 was due to over-reaching by the railroad barons of that day; the panic of 1893 to the over-extension of western land loans; the panic of 1913 to the over expansion of industrial traffic; and the panic of 1933 to the collapse of our banking system following the stock market break of 1929. I predict that the next panic will be due to the over-reaching of labor and a collapse of the present union leadership.

Cooperation Is Needed

Another prolonged depression might bring us face to face with ideological experimentation in this country. It becomes increasingly apparent that Management must take the lead in showing Labor the rational path out of their confused jungle of thinking. I believe a more enlightened Management leadership can prove not only to our own wage earning classes but to the world that the free enterprise system offers the greatest opportunity for individual initiative, the highest standard of living, and the greatest security.

The workers' basic wants are recognition and security. Labor has believed, correctly or incorrectly, that Management has seriously threatened the attainment of these goals. Labor has shown that it will fight to preserve the organizations working for them. To assure Labor-Management co-operation, we must try to understand why Labor and Management think and act as they do. Quite simply we can say that differences in men's thinking arise because they live in different economic and social worlds. The beginning of cooperation is the recognition of these differences and an honest attempt to overcome them.

Labor-Management Goals the Same

Unless you receive your orders from Moscow, you will agree that the long-range goals of Labor and Management should be as follows: (1) Continuous steady employment; (2) good working conditions; (3) full wages based upon productivity; (4) ample profits for the business to insure good wages, to attract venture capital, and thereby expand the business; and (5) freedom for any wage worker making good to become a capitalist, but with assurance that any employer who does not will drop back into the wage earning group. These goals, however, will be achieved only when Labor and Management understand the other's job and work together.

It is increasingly apparent that union leaders and management alike expect the other fellow to follow a course which they themselves cannot take and survive. Management says that we shall have peace when unions do not infringe upon its sacred rights. The unions say we shall have peace when Labor is not made secondary to Management.

A Warning

I predict that if Labor and Management do not do a thorough job of understanding one another during the next few years, we shall not only have a depression, but we shall have such regimentation of Labor and Management that there will no longer be either free unions or free enterprise.

Atomic scientists report making 20 new radioactive elements, some of which can exist for only a few seconds after creation. Hmmm! We can foresee some difficulty in stock-piling.

Gonzales Warm Springs Drive Is on Fight Polio

GONZALES—Texans from the Rio Grande to the Panhandle this week girded for a statewide drive to strike back against poliomyelitis which thus far in 1948 has stricken more than 1,600 persons in more than 150 counties.

Gov. Beauford H. Jester proclaimed the period from Thanksgiving Day to Christmas as Gonzales Warm Springs Foundation Month as a statewide organization, headed by Dana X. Bible, University of Texas director of athletics, swung into action to secure financial support for the institution which cares for young children stricken by polio and other crippling diseases.

Chairmen in key counties throughout Texas are assisting Mr. Bible in bringing the story of the Gonzales Warm Springs Foundation to the people of the state, says Ross Boothe, president of the foundation.

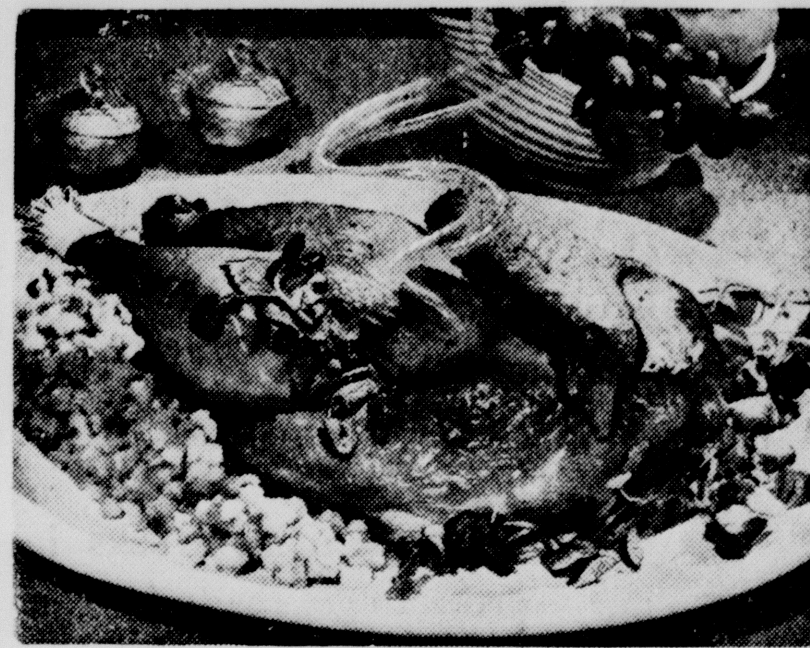

Equipped to care for 110 crippled children, the Gonzales Warm Springs Foundation uses the water from warm natural springs and modern medical facilities and trained technicians to assist those who have been crippled to regain their health. It is supported largely by the contributions of Texas citizens, says Boothe, and any child suffering from a crippling disease may obtain admission and treatment, he declared.

A number of statewide organizations are cooperating in the statewide campaign for financial support, Boothe reported.

More than 500 persons have received treatment at Gonzales Warm Springs Foundation since the institution started receiving patients in 1941.

'Wonder Boy' Attacks Tuna Canning Trust

ASTORIA, ORE.—The efforts of a Seattle "wonder boy" to break the tuna canning monopoly of California packing firms might well decide the price of a tuna sandwich at the corner drugstore.

Nick Bez, a determined Yugoslav immigrant from Seattle, has just delivered the second blow of a one-two punch.

A converted navy vessel is fishing at present off Costa Rica in "home waters" of the Californians.

The ship is a former repair ship renamed the Saipan.

The Saipan is the "mothership" in a new technique to freeze and store yellowfin tuna off the hot, tropical coasts of Latin-America. Capacity is 75 tons of fish.

Financed by RFC

The Saipan is the follow-up of Bez' first blow which he delivered with the aid of four million dollars spent on the ship Pacific Explorer by the reconstruction finance corporation.

The Pacific Explorer is being refitted in Seattle for further "exploratory" trips, probably into the Bering sea off the Russian coast.

The determined Bez has still another blow ready for delivery. Another "mothership" called the Tinian is being outfitted at Astoria.

It too, will store 75 tons of frozen tuna.

And here is how Bez hopes to affect that drugstore tuna sandwich by his gamble on the high seas.

Operation Is Seasonal

The Astoria tuna canneries have been operating only during the summer and fall months, canning Albacore tuna, caught off the west coast of the United States.

If the expensive machinery and well-paid workers can be kept busy all year canning the tropical yellowfin tuna, then the sandwich is going to cost less.

Also, there will be a wider market for northwest canneries because the scarce Albacore is a de luxe tuna, not like the yellowfin which loves to snuggle up to a milk shake.

But the counter punch in this battle may land squarely on the Bez beak. He has to whip the tough, enterprising California packers.

He also has to find the tuna.

And there are a lot of bankrupt tuna fishermen around who explain that the latter can be very difficult.

New Disposable Nursing Bottle Eliminates Baby's Problems

CHICAGO.—More than 80 years ago the standard glass nursing bottle was invented. Before that, babies who, for one reason or another, could not be nursed by their mothers did the best they could with the aid of a flask-shaped bottle and a long rubber hose. At the end of the hose was a crude nipple, forerunner of today's variety.

With the exception of a few minor changes and adjustments, the glass nursing bottle has remained virtually unchanged.

One of the first major changes in baby nursing is a new collapsible, disposable, pre-sterilized bottle which does away with many of the headaches that have been plaguing mother.

The new bottles are made of a plastic material which, while strong and sturdy, is at the same time soft and pliable. In fact, as the infant removes the formula, the bottle actually collapses, entirely eliminating problems of back-pressure and collapsed nipples.

With these new bottles, you use one just once and throw it away. The bottles come in a long roll, sealed off from each other at intervals to form either four or eight-ounce bottles. When mother prepares the formula, she merely snips off the number of bottles needed, fills them, and puts them in the refrigerator. The only things she sterilizes are the nipples, the caps, and the rings which hold the nipple to the bottle.

FBI Finds 8.5 Per Cent of Federal Workers Break Law

WASHINGTON.—The government is uncovering some strange and embarrassing facts about its federal workers as a result of loyalty investigations.

One of every 12, the federal Bureau of Investigation is finding, has some previous police record. The number so found now runs into thousands.

"The great mass," says J. Edgar Hoover, chief of the FBI, "are felons; we have very few misdeemeanors."

Charged with ferreting out disloyal workers, the FBI has proceeded far enough in its loyalty investigations so far to establish that a fairly consistent ratio of 8.5 per cent of government workers apparently have been lawbreakers.

However, the FBI director notes that even for those with police records, the files reflect no disloyalty information whatever in 99 per cent of the cases.

Thus far, a boxscore of the FBI investigations indicates that 6,221 of the 71,920 seeking atomic energy positions and 11,521 of the 410,211 workers checked under the loyalty program have prior police records.

Fertile soil is always a part of a strong nation.

SHORT STORY

Secret Of the Locket

By EDWARD LEE

SILAS HENBURY, wedged into a chair tilted against the counter, was slipping into his regular after-dinner snooze when the door opened. The customer was an elderly woman.

Silas rose and the chair creaked its relief. He clumped behind the counter and said: "Good evening, ma'am. Something I can do for you?"

"Wh-why, yes, I suppose so. At least, I hope so."

"Anything within reason. That's why I'm called 'Uncle Silas.' My customers are just like relatives to me."

"That makes it easier. I never had to pawn anything before. But . . ."

Her voice trailed into silence.

Silas knew that when she continued, throughout her story would run the same theme as countless others to which he had listened during his 40 years in the pawnbroker business. He nodded his head encouragingly.

"This gold locket," she said, unfolding her hands to reveal the trinket, "was presented to me by my husband when we were married. No matter how often we moved trying to better our circumstances, they never improved. After his death last year things became worse. I sold most of my valuables. But this . . . I just couldn't. I only want a loan on this locket, for some day I shall redeem it."

"But to every pawn shop I've gone, they refuse to lend me any money. They say it is not valuable enough to be held as security."

"We'll soon see," said Silas. He lightly scratched the surface of the locket with a penknife. Into that shallow furrow he let fall a few drops of acid, then shook his head as a greenish tinge appeared, saying: "I'm sorry, but this locket's only value is as a keepsake. It's tin."

THE woman looked bewildered. "I . . . I can't understand it. There must be some mistake. Look here," she directed, unfastening the trinket. Its two heart-shaped halves swung open and she pointed to metal that encircled two miniature portraits. "See how bright and solid that is?"

"That photograph favors you, ma'am, even though it was taken when you were younger."

"Forty years younger, to be exact, when I was married. The opposite one is of my husband. It favors him too."

"I'm sure it does. Looks like he was a fine man."

"He was. Folks said he was unreliable and irresponsible. I suppose Henry was, in a way. But they were his only faults."

"Pardon my asking, but, you loved him a great deal?"

"Yes, and, I still do," she answered. Then, regarding him with a quizzical look, said: "Why did you ask?"

"Well, I just kind of thought a woman wouldn't stay married forty years unless she loved her husband a great deal," Silas said.

"You make me feel noble," she replied. "Now, concerning this locket."

Her words recalled Silas to the business at hand. He said: "I was mistaken. The inside was what convinced me."

Silas gave her the money she requested and closed the deal. Her fervent thanks made him glad that he had gone through with the deception.

For, he had recognized Agnes Trumbull's picture. That was how she had looked when she had rejected him to marry his cousin, Henry, whose photograph appeared in the locket's other half.

Silas had known Henry was unreliable and irresponsible but he did not criticize him to her. Leaving home, he had never written or returned. Thus, Silas had lost all trace of Henry and Agnes until tonight when he had recognized her picture in the locket.

Silas knew Agnes still loved Henry and would be hurt to learn the truth. And, Silas still loved her so much that he had created a certain way to insure her remaining ignorant of Henry's deception. That was, to advance so large an amount on the locket that she would never be able to redeem it.

Reserve Officer Qualifications Now Being Kept Up to Date by Army

AUSTIN, Texas—The Department of the Army has directed that the 16,000 Texas Organized Reserve Officers be inventoried of their qualifications, Colonel Oscar B. Abbott, Senior Army Instructor for the Organized Reserves in Texas, announced here recently. The questionnaire for 300 Officers assigned to the Adjutant are already in the mail and the remainder will be sent out by branch of service within the next few months.

"It is realized that many of our Texas Reserve Officers have changed their qualifications since they were separated from the service immediately after the war," Colonel Abbott said. "Some have graduated from college and now hold degrees which should appear on their records, while others have entered professional fields of which activity the Army has no record."

A classification analyst will review the forms and from the information available will assign and record the new occupational specialty of the reservist.

Colonel Abbott said that the inventory will be a continuous one as new officers that are commissioned in the Organized Reserves or assigned from another area will receive a questionnaire to complete and forward. Each year, during Army week, a Report of Change will be mailed to each Texas Reserve Officer to discover any change that may have occurred in that officer's qualifications during the preceding year.

"During the last war we had many experiences of officers being assigned to jobs other than the one he was fitted for. This is a further attempt of the Army to fit the square pegs in the square holes and the round pegs in the round holes," Colonel Abbott said.

Most business men take an annual inventory of their business, farmers should take an annual inventory of soil fertility.

All who are friends of the soil need now to move and speak out together as never before.

Cattle Grubs Rob Texas Ranchers Of Millions of Dollars Every Year

COLLEGE STATION, Nov. 23—At the market, cattle with grubs are docked from a half cent to a cent and a half per pound. This means around $3.86 cents per animal, says C. A. King, associate extension entomologist of Texas A. & M. College. And that adds up to quite a bit when you're the owner of a big herd.

Two million Texas cattle are slaughtered every year, and over one-third of these are grubby cattle. A more direct loss to the farmer is feed. He has to feed his cattle about 15 per cent more than usual just because of the grubs.

The fall and early winter is the best time to treat cattle for grubs because this is the time of year the grubs mature and fall off the animal to the ground, says King. The stockman has three choices of controlling grubs—dust, spray or dip. If you use the first method, dust the backs of the animals thoroughly with one part 6 per cent rotenone and two parts tripoli earth or talc. King suggests using a fruit jar with 15 holes in the lid one-fourth inch in diameter. Rub the dust into the hair with the fingertips.

For a spray, mix seven and a half pounds of 5 per cent rotenone in 100 gallons of water. Wet the backs of the animals thoroughly with a sprayer that has at least 250 pounds pressure.

Both lice and grubs can be controlled in a dip containing one pound of 5 per cent rotenone and 10 pounds of wettable sulphur in 100 gallons of water. It'll take two dips 17 to 21 days apart and the first should be made 10 to 14 days after the grubs are first noticed in the back.

Here's another way to picture the grub losses. Enough leather is lost each year to furnish shoes for one million people for a year.

The milk flow is reduced around a quarter, says King, but most important to all, is the five million dollars lost by Texas farmers.

That's a lot of money to pay for grubby cattle.

Kimbrough Talks To Banqueteers

Coach Frank Kimbrough of West Texas State College was the principal speaker at the annual football banquet held last Monday night, November 22, in the school cafeteria.

Mrs. C. O. Elkins served as mistress of ceremonies. The following program was presented: Invocation, Burney Slack; Welcome, Mrs. Maude Walters; piano selection, Donna Erwin; vocal number, J. B. Hickman; piano selection, Harrell Slack; address, J. E. Miller; notes from Co-Captains Wayne Prichard and Jimmie Lindsey; and the address of Coach Kimbrough, the principal speaker of the evening.

Pictures Shown

Football pictures of W. T.'s Homecoming game were shown to the group in the auditorium after which they returned to the cafeteria for dancing.

The tables for the banquet were decorated in purple and white with footballs and helmets surrounded by artificial autumn leaves as centerpieces.

Program booklets which were white with a purple eagle on the front had each person's name written on the flyleaf. All the football boys' names, the program, and the menu, which consisted of a tomato cocktail, ham, candied potatoes, green beans, cold slaw, hot rolls, apple pie and ice cream, iced tea or coffee, were printed on the inside.

Homemaking girls, under the direction of Mrs. Perry Bell, served at the banquet.

Little Ones Require Numerous Duties

By Mary Ruth Hill

Just what are a principal's duties anyhow? Tying up sore fingers and toes, and oh, yes, "Please, Miss Fronabarger, will you chew my gum while I eat this peach?" inquires one little cherub. She often has to lend money to hungry little ones who have lost lunch tickets.

"Please, Miss Fronabarger, will you call my mother and ask her if I may spend the night in town. I want to go to the show with Tom," quers a fourth grader.

Miss Fronabarger, I got hungry and ate the apple I was bringing Mary for the party, will you get her another?

My lunch is gone. It is in a red tin box and I'm so hungry. Will you please find it?

Miss Fronabarger, will you please keep this quarter for me. I'm afraid I'll lose it. Put it in one of those boxes you have there in your desk, please.

Besides all this, she runs a "lost and found" department. She has to settle claims to various articles in the collection, at frequent intervals. But, don't get me wrong, the principal doesn't do all this for nothing! She is very often presented gifts of things to eat—"You may have this, Miss Fronabarger, I don't like it."

Mrs. Malcolm Cashwell, the former Helen Jo Cox, and ex-student of CHS, substituted for Mr. Ray Schultz last Friday.

Members of the Freshman class have postponed their party until Monday, 29. It was formerly scheduled for the night of the 22 of November.

Willis Parsons was out of school last Friday due to illness.

he may. He flips off the lights in his "eager-beaver" way without the slightest consideration for anyone but himself.

There are quite a few students in this school, and it is impossible for each student to have his every little command executed. However, every effort is exerted to make students comfortable. Let's remember this and not show our rudeness by not consulting the feelings of others before we open all the windows wide. Let's think before we act. We need all the good will we can gain.

Canyon Eagles Tie Wolves, 7-7

Linemen Perform Yoeman Duties

Seven Footballers Finish Last Season For Eagles

Canyon High's underrated gridsters climaxed their 1948 season Friday afternoon by clashing the Dalhart Wolves to a 7-7 tie, and knocking them from second place in the district. A reasonably large crowd saw two determined teams struggling desperately for possession of the pig-skin.

The first quarter was scoreless. The skirmish got under way when Billy Sessun booted the ball to the end zone where it was taken and returned by Walters to the 30 yard line. Three plays later, Joe Abbott plunged the net necessary yardage for the first first-down in the rip-roaring game that was to follow.

Early in the second period Billy Sessun skirted his own right end from the 22-yard line to score, and then struck over right tackle for the extra point. The Wolves worked the ball to the 2-yard line for a penetration late in the second period but were stopped short as the time ran out.

Eagles Score

The third period got under way when Jimmy Lindsey put his toe into the leather and sent it end over end to the 5-yard line. Canyon took over on downs from their own 47-yard line and Wayne Prichard skirted his own left end for a 34-yard gain and set up a penetration. Dalhart fumbled when they took over, and Wayne Prichard recovered. The Eagles started on a powerful ground attack that ended when Richard Walters struck pay-dirt from the 10-yard line. Joe Abbott tossed the ball into the waiting arms of Mickey King for the conversion.

Canyon's second threat came as their forward wall opened up holes in Dalhart's line enabling their backfield to work the pigskin to the 2-yard line but couldn't shatter the determined line for the necessary precious yardage. The rest of the game was a struggle for possession of the pigskin with the game ending in a 7-7 tie.

Canyon gained 158 yards rushing while Dalhart picked up 181 yards. Canyon tried 7 passes for a gain of 11 yards; Dalhart tried 6 for a gain of 9 yards. Canyon had 7 first downs and Dalhart had 8. Canyon had 3 penetrations while Dalhart had only one.

Canyon loses seven gridsters from their line-up for next year; five graduating seniors and two players whose eligibility runs out. Those graduating are Billy Cleavinger, center, Jimmie Lindsey, tackle, Jerre Inman, end, Bobby King, guard, and Richard Walters, back. Wayne Griffin and Wayne Prichard will be ineligible, due to their age.

'What I Am Thankful For' Is Response to FHA Roll Call

"What I Am Thankful For" was the answer to the roll call of the FHA meeting last Thursday. Also in Keeping with the Thanksgiving theme, Martha Hales gave "What America Means to Me."

The year's theme, "International Friendship" was carried out in the program. "Life in Okinawa," was given by Janey Forester, followed by Donna Erwin's talk on "How the World Bathes."

Refreshments of cheerios were served to sixty-four members present.

Bruce Winn, a junior, was absent Wednesday morning, Thursday, and Friday. He was in the hospital Wednesday night and Thursday morning for medical treatment.

Grade Notes

Mrs. Collins has been unable to teach her classes this week, due to illness. Mrs. Larry E. Holman has been substituting for her. The class attended a party Monday afternoon in Donna Caskey's home where they helped her celebrate her seventh birthday.

Mrs. Davis's second grade has a new student, Lawana Mitchell, from Dallas.

Mrs. Goodman's third grade gave a reading party for Mrs. Usery's third grade Friday afternoon. John Robert Wheelock was chairman. Apples were served. Rita Joyce Grabbe was absent from school to attend the funeral of her grandfather at Clovis, N. M. Patsy Jo Hickman was absent, due to the death of her great-grandfather. Five students out of the class of 28 are celebrating birthdays this month. Mrs. Goodman also has one. Students having birthdays are: James Paul Funston, Weldon Prichard, Gene Westfall, Joy Rose, and Joyce Shelnett.

Ruth Ashley has withdrawn from Mrs. Cousins' fourth grade and moved to Ardmore, Oklahoma. Recent visitors in the room were: Mrs. Buddy Taylor, Mrs. E. P. Harding, and Mrs. C. L. Johnson. Jean Hilgenfeld and Mary Jean Shelnett have been absent, due to illness. The class has been working on an Eskimo unit and also has been making Thanksgiving posters.

Mrs. Brasher's fourth grade has added some new library books to their shelves. Part were bought by the school and the children bought some with the $2.50 they received for having a rating of 100% for all their mothers joining the PTA. Mrs. E. A. Michael visited in the class.

William Hartman is back at school in Mrs. Walsh's fifth grade after being ill.

June Davis, a student in Mrs. Iversen's sixth grade, is going to leave for a trip to Indiana. Larry Hunge is also taking a Thanksgiving trip during the holidays.

Choral readings will be presented to the 4th, 5th and 6th grades by Mrs. Davis' sixth grade. Readings will include "Independence Bell," the Twenty-third psalm and the One-hundredth psalm.

CHS Seniors Tell Plans for Holidays

Well the roving reporter has been around checking up on the seniors of Canyon High as to what they will do over the Thanksgiving holidays, and this is what he has found: June Jennings will celebrate her eighteenth birthday.

Billy Cleavinger is going to hunt and play basketball.

Juanda Edwards is visiting in Floydada.

Janey Forester will be a guest at her cousin's ranch and ice skate.

Bobby King will chase ducks and date pretty girls.

Donald Davis has no comment.

Dorothy Butler is going to Lubbock.

Mary Sue Foster will eat until she is sick; so she says.

Betty Schuette will take care of her dumb nephew. (the views expressed here are not necessarily the author's).

Sue Dickerson wants to see the football game at Wappy.

Don Hickman wishes to sleep.

Gerald McDuff will work. Ha!

Bryce Slack is going to Austin to see Texas University play A. and M.

Harry Campfield will be hunting deers! He says.

New Clocks Are Modern Features

What time is it? We won't have to ask this question much longer. Just step down, or up, to the second floor. There are new fluorescent lights in all of the halls. The new clock on the second floor has two faces on it. One facing north and the other, south. There is another over the door in the cafeteria. In the first floor of the grade school there is a clock with two faces like the one in the high schools.

The high school library also boasts an electric clock, though so far, it is out of order, and refuses to run.

This makes six electric clocks for the school system. The clocks and lights are not only attractive, but convenient as well.

Eagle B Cinches Climaxing Game

As a fitting climax to their season's game, the Canyon B team trampled the Dalhart B team 18-0. After three long, cold, windy quarters the Eagles managed to break the ice. Their first score came in a 25-yard drive with Prater running the last 5-yards. Ratliff kicked off to the 10. Dalhart tried punting, but wasn't very successful against a 50-mile an hour wind. Canyon received the ball on the 35 and marched for a touchdown. Billy Samples carried over from the 3. Again Ratliff put them in the hole with his kick. Canyon pulled its way from the 40 to the 5 with Slack running over.

In the second quarter Prater picked up a fumble and ran 85 yards for a TD, but was called back. Slack, Busted and Prater were the spark-plugs for the backs, and Gough, Burrus and Currie did the yoeman line duty for the team.

Canyon's "B" string ended a very successful season Friday night, winning 4 losing 2 games this season. They have scored 80 points to the opponent's 40.

Little Graybird Might Relate Truths to Mothers of Pupils

Birds may thirst for knowledge, or do they tell secrets? Anyhow, why did Graybird, the sparrow, fly into Mrs. Miller's room last Wednesday and refuse to be ousted? Probably some mother sent him to find out how much work her son or daughter is doing—if any?

She'll know what to expect on this six-weeks' report card.

Thursday morning Graybird, the sparrow, was chirping loudly in the old kitchen on second floor. When disturbed, he flew through the trap door into the attic, no doubt, back to bear the tidings he'd gleaned. Now, somebody's mother will say, "Son, you are not working, so a little bird tells me."

Ruby Lee Bonds is back in school after two weeks' absence due to serious illness.

McDuff Wins Vice-presidency

Campaign Speeches Give Candidates Platforms

Jimmy Lindsey, senior of Canyon High School, will be SFC president this year. Gerald McDuff is the new vice-president. Election returns of last Monday's voting gave these two candidates substantial leads.

Last Friday morning soap box orators roared forth from the CHS stage their reasons and convictions as to who would make the best president and vice-president for the congress.

Fifty-five minutes between class periods, indoor swimming pools for use between class periods, but no pink lemonade stands in the halls to clutter up things, and just five minute class periods are the planks of the platform offered by Billy Cleavinger's manager, Donald Hickman, who spoke in Billy's behalf for the presidency.

As to Bruce Winn, his running mate, for the vice-presidency, Janey Forester, Bobby Jean Ford, and Albert Craig, his managers, declared he could also stand firm on this platform, since his feet are big enough.

Jimmy Lindsey, the other candidate for president, according to Mable Graham and Richard Walters, will make no promises, because he cannot keep them, anyway. A regular realist!

Gerald (cassanova) McDuff with the qualifications to uphold his chief in serious matters was offered for vice-president by Betty Ann Erwin and Bryce Slack.

FFA Boys Come Back from Trip

Climaxing their FFA Convention trip to Kansas City, Missouri, Jerre Inman and Donald Davis returned home, Saturday, November 20.

The boys joined other FFA representatives at Silverton for their journey to Kansas City. Their first stop was at Oklahoma City, where they spent the night at the Wells Robert Hotel. They arrived in Kansas City at 5:30, Sunday evening. Here they stayed at the Tanner Hotel. Donald and Jerre attended the convention twice a day and visited the Kansas City stock yards. The convention was represented by boys from forty-three states.

Laura and LaRue Davis visited in Dalhart with relatives last week-end.

West Texas Basketball Season Will Open in Burton Gym December 2

West Texas State College will not be through the football season when the basketball season starts. Coach Gus Miller's cagers are scheduled to open the 1948-49 season in Burton Gym here on December 2. The next day Coach Frank Kimbrough's football Buffaloes will be in Corpus Christi preparing for their final tilt of the season, against the Corpus Christi University Tarpons.

Coach Miller likes the spirit and hustle of his basketball players have shown in the workouts. Beyond that he refuses to make any kind of a prediction about the future.

Miller did say, however, the Buffaloes ought to be a better ball club than last year. He quickly added that all the other, especially in the Border Conference, ought to be better too.

The veteran coach believes the Border Conference competition in basketball has become as spirited as any in the nation. He said there was a time when one or two clubs dominated the conference. But today, and he used last year as typical, the competition is so keen the conference attracts national attention because of its "home-winning" quintets. It is believed that the Border loop has a higher percentage of games which are won on the home floors than in any other conference excepting, perhaps, the Big Nine.

Miller has the same squad he had last year with the exception of the Box twins, Boyce and Cloyce. Boyce is now teaching school, and Cloyce will concentrate on his business administration and pre-law studies until he gets his degree at mid-term. Cloyce is quarterback on the football team.

The return of J. W. Malone, all conference and Kansas City All-American in his freshman year two seasons ago, has rejoined the team. He is expected to make up for the loss of Boyce Box who was captain last year.

Coach Miller also will have Charles Miller, 6'6" center, who was a freshman last year. J. W. Malone and Richardson fill up the two spots left vacant by the Box boys.

Four seniors, seven juniors and one sophomore make up Miller's top squad. The seniors are Glyn Braden, 6'5" center, Sherman; Neil Jackson, 6'1" forward, Stratford; Bill Miller, 6'1" forward, Canyon; and Kenneth Simpson 6'1" guard, Borger.

The juniors are Bill Allen, 5'11" forward, Stratford; Charles Barnard, 6'8" center, White Deer; Bill Birdwell, 6' guard, Dimmitt; Hubert Kitchens, 5'11" guard, Childress; J. W. and Sammy Malone, 5'10" brother guards, Stratford; and Don Woods, 6'2" forward, Clayton, N. M.

The sophomore is Charles Richardson, 6'6" center, Phillips.

Miller said he likely would not divide his squad into a first and second teams. He prefers to designate all players as first stringers, and alternate his starting lineups to conform with the style of play of each particular opponent.

Ninth in Series Great Plays Aired Friday Night KVAI

How to make a dour Scotch husband laugh at himself as well as at life is the delightful lesson Sir James Barrie teaches in his famous dramatic comedy, "What Every Woman Knows," which will be heard over station KVAI Friday evening November 26 from 7:00 to 7:30 p.m. This is the ninth radio drama in the series "Great Scenes from Great Plays" sponsored by the Protestant Episcopal families in Canyon with the cooperation of the Episcopal Actors Guild.

Miss Gertrude Lawrence, saucy, insouciant, delightful star of the Broadway stage and Hollywood screen, plays the part of Maggie Shand, the winsome lass of Galashiels, Scotland, who captures John Shand, an irascible, opinionated, selfish and self-centered home town boy who through main strength and awkwardness wins a local election for British Parliament.

"What Every Woman Knows" represents a distinct change of pace in the Episcopal series of radio dramas because, instead of pointing a moral concerning one of the great Christian virtues, the play merely says that if a husband and wife have the same sense of humor, if they can laugh at the same things—yes, even including themselves, then there should be no need for divorce. To say that the sanctity of the home depends on a sense of humor may be stretching a point, but Sir James Barrie's thesis contains just as many lessons for married couples today as when it was written nearly half a century ago. In political life today there are many John Shands who become intoxicated with the sound of their own voices and fail to realize that whatever success they may have achieved is dependent largely upon the sagacious counsel of a wife in the distant background.

Most of us find that it is a much easier job to talk ourselves into trouble than out of it.

Food Companies Seek Ways to Use Coconut Milk

NEW YORK.—Anybody know a good way to use coconut milk—in huge quantities?

A few gourmets' recipes call for it. But one of the nation's biggest processors of the hard shelled nut has been trying for years to figure out a way to salvage it. Milk of the tropical nut, however, is one of the few by-products of the food industry which is thrown away.

Figuring out ways of using leftovers is just one of the research jobs in progress all over the country today. Most of the big food companies employ scientists, working in modern laboratories, whose job is to improve established products and develop new ones.

Thomas M. Rector, a big, good-natured Virginian, is the vice-president in charge of research and development for General Foods corporation, which markets a large variety of products. What to do with coconut milk is one of the few things that has him—at the moment—stopped.

"We package the meat of the nut," he explained, "we sell the shells to industry, because they make a very high grade of charcoal—in World War I all gas masks used charcoal from coconut shells. But we dump the milk in the river."

Small Sugar Content

The sugar content of the milk is only four per cent, so it's impractical to try to distill it as alcohol. The supply is irregular; it's not a popular drink.

Meanwhile, however, there's still work being done on leftovers, because big companies, like housewives, dislike throwing good things away.

Take decaffeinated coffee. Caffeine is actually removed from the bean. But is it thrown away?

"Of course not," said Rector. "It's sold to drug houses for medical preparations. And it is sold to people who make cola drinks."

Then fish—Rector's company freezes it.

"We prepare frozen red perch fillets," he said. "For every 100 pounds of red perch, there's 30 pounds of fillets. The other 70 pounds would be wasted—but of course it's not. It's chewed up and made into chicken feed. Leftovers from cod and haddock go into dog food."

Apples Contain Pectin

Everybody knows apples are full of pectin—the stuff that makes jelly jell. But Rector's organization also found pectin in the skins of citrus fruits. So now they extract the juices, chop up the fruit—and process the leftover skins into powdered pectin.

Sometimes, of course, a new product is not developed in the laboratories. Like the time the cousin of the emperor of Afghanistan walked into Rector's office with a revolutionary process for processing rice.

The gentleman from Afghanistan had just happened on a method the food people had been looking for for years—a rice that would be ready to serve after a few minutes cooking. The man from Afghanistan has a patent on the process. General Food sells the product—and everybody is very happy, including the income tax collector.

Which doesn't milk a coconut—commercially—but someday that nut will be cracked, too.

Reward for First Yank In Berlin Goes Unclaimed

NEW YORK.—David Kay, a man who never has got over the wonders of democracy, said that he probably would found a scholarship with the $1,000 reward he offered for the first American soldier to reach Berlin.

Kay posted his offer and another $1,000 for the first Russian soldier to reach Berlin, in the closing days of World War II.

A few months ago he was advised that the Russians had been unable to trace their first man. They suggested that Kay might want to contribute instead to the fund for rebuilding Stalingrad.

"I did so," Kay said. "Now the war department advises me it is impossible to trace the first American soldier."

"The Veterans of Foreign Wars made the suggestion that I found a scholarship for the son of a dead veteran. It sounds like a fine idea to me."

"I made the offer because I love this country. I was a Polish immigrant kid, now I'm a millionaire. Where else can that happen? Where else can you speak as freely as here and do the things you want to do?"

Dwindling Diet Concerns People of Great Britain

LONDON.—Britain's dwindling diet is a "matter of grave concern," Food Minister John Strachey told the house of commons as potato-a-day rationing began.

Strachey said many Britons were receiving less than the 2,700 calories-a-day figure set by the government as standard for the current crisis.

"The 2,700 is an average figure," he said. "There are many sections of the population getting very much more than that. Therefore, there are many getting very much less."

U. S. Survey Reveals Continued Prosperity For Farm Families

WASHINGTON.—The department of agriculture predicted continuing improvements for rural family living due to increased incomes of recent years.

Reporting for the first time on the outlook in different parts of the country, the department noted among farm families:

In the Midwest—Savings high, bonds not cashed generally; new auto purchases slow, enough liquid assets for home improvements.

In the South—A far greater variety of foods being consumed at the farm table than 12 years ago; also more prepared foods used.

In the West — Except for fruit raisers, incomes high, prospects for continuing high incomes good because of increasing population, home improvements widespread.

Ruth C. Freeman, University of Illinois specialist in home accounts, who made the Midwest study, said that rural family living has been "greatly enhanced" in recent years.

"The opportunity for choice in connection with family living purchases has given the homemaker a different outlook on life," she said.

"A feeling of security has been developed through the family's accumulated savings, payment of debts, and prospect of some stability of income through farm price supports."

In 1947 a typical farm family spent two and a half times as much as they did the year before on household equipment, the most commonly purchased items being vacuum cleaners, washing machines, stoves, refrigerators, and home freezer lockers.

Crippled Fisherman Uses Cane to Land Big Catfish

NEBURG, IND.—John Stacer, Neburg justice of the peace, has a fish story with a new twist.

Stacer, who is crippled and walks with a cane, claims that he landed a 70-pound catfish in the Ohio river with the aid of his walking stick. He said he hooked the fish on a trotline but the hook snapped when he tried to land the fish with a gaff.

So Stacer grabbed his cane, put the crook in the fish's gills and jerked the big fish into his boat.

Bullets Fail to Hurt Farmer Who Waits for News of Baby

BINGHAMTON, N. Y. — Randall Hitchcock of nearby Chenango Bridge was sitting in a hotel in Bogota, Colombia, as snipers' bullets whizzed around during the rioting there.

That was bad enough, but Hitchcock was even more worried about his wife back home. She was expecting a baby.

As the dismal hours passed, he heard sputterings from the small short-wave radio set he'd carried with him.

"Randall Hitchcock, Randall Hitchcock," called a voice. "If you're listening, your wife has had a fine baby boy and you're a proud father. Mother and baby doing nicely."

The voice was that of Wolfie Wolfinger, an amateur radio operator at Hillcrest, near Hitchcock's home.

"It was the biggest moment of my life," said Hitchcock, despite the danger from the bullets and mobs of the revolution.

'Worst' Reckless Driver Ends Wild Spree in Jail Cell

WICHITA, KAS. — Fining the motorist $600 and sentencing him to five months in jail, Judge Roy Rogers said the case was the "worst instance of reckless driving" ever brought to his attention.

Joseph D. Rosario Jr., 30, drew the penalties for:

Speeding 80 miles an hour at night through heavy downtown traffic in a 20-mile zone; running 12 traffic lights; driving without a license; reckless driving; driving without lights; driving on the wrong side of the street; possessing liquor in violation of Kansas dry laws and resisting arrest.

The wild chase, with two motorcycle officers in pursuit, ended with Rosario's car smashing to a stop in a clump of shrubbery.

He wasn't hurt.

Boy Has 17 Years to Pay Fine for Smashing Window

BURY, ENGLAND. — Four-year-old Stephen Jones has 17 years to save up three dollars to pay a judgment.

The obligation grew out of an incident involving a stone about the size of a peach and the glass frame of a greenhouse. The county court held Stephen and the stone were responsible for a smashed pane of glass.

Then the law took a curious twist. The action, it was held, was against Stephen, not his father. And the judgment was against Stephen. But a judgment cannot be collected from a legal infant, so the greenhouse man has to wait until the boy is 21 before he can collect.

Flights To Moon Is Being Freely Predicted in Survey

The opinion is expressed that inter-planetary flight, or flights to the moon, may be possible within the lifetime of those living.

What makes the item worthy of note is that it represents a survey among scientists, carried out by a foundation by Dr. G. Edward Pandray. He reports that the men questioned were not "fiction writers" but hard-headed technical men.

Over one-fourth of them said they expected "definite progress within ten years toward the development of rockets for inter-planetary flight."

The revelation came in connection with the dedication of an exhibit of the work in rocketry of the late Dr. Robert H. Goddard, pioneer in the field. Dr. Goddard, who died in 1945, worked on rocket propulsion for the Navy and earlier set forth the mathematical principles of rocket flight, which were copied by the Germans.

Klondike Kate, At 68, Is Happy On Oregon Farm

SALEM, ORE. — Klondike Kate, at 68, has settled down near busy Pacific highway, 12 miles south of here, to think back on the wild days when she dazzled bearded prospectors and earned a lasting reputation as the Belle of the Yukon.

Kate Rockwell, the daughter of a Spokane (Wash.) judge, has moved to a 12 acre farm with her third husband, W. L. Van Buren, a retired accountant. She came here from Bend, Ore., where she had operated a nursing home since she came down from the northland.

Kate and her new husband plan to build a home on their little tract, a house of simulated logs "for atmosphere only."

"We will be just as comfortable as any of these chechacos," said the lady sourdough, who once made as much as $750 a night dancing for and with eager miners, trappers and hunters in the Alaskan gold rush days.

Kate went north in 1900 in boy's clothing when she was 20 years old. She joined a vaudeville troupe and in a short while she was undisputed queen of the Yukon.

Dollar a Dance

Sourdoughs paid a dollar a dance in those days and the girls received 25 cents of the dollar and got a cut on the drinks. The girls drank iced tea, wore high necked shirtwaists and skirts to the ground.

"They were very decorous," Kate explained.

The Yukon proved to be a bonanza for the little Spokane girl with golden hair and an Irish smile. She financed Alexander Pantages' first theater venture and performed in his first vaudeville show. Pantages became a successful west coast theater owner and producer.

It was in 1900 that the queen of the Yukon met bashful Johnny Mattson, on Christmas eve. Johnny a trapper and miner, fell in love with Kate, but it took him 33 years to propose. When he did, Kate accepted.

But meantime she had met, married and divorced Floyd Warren, a handsome cowboy, after a courtship by correspondence.

Wed a Second Time

Johnny and Kate were married in Vancouver, B. C., on July 14, 1933. After the wedding Johnny went back to his claim, 100 miles from Dawson, Yukon territory. Kate returned to Bend, where friends changed her name from Klondike Kate to Aunt Kate.

Johnny and Kate met in Dawson once a year and twice a year he wrote to her. In October, 1946, Kate became worried because Johnny's usual letter failed to arrive. She instigated a search and a trapper found the 83 year old sourdough dead on a frozen trail seven miles from his lonely cabin.

Kate had flown to Dawson and was there when the news arrived. She returned to Bend, sad and lonely. She had known Van Buren for several years and when she was 68 the two were married in Vancouver, Wash.

They moved to their home here and settled down for a quiet life.

The call of the wild has died to a whisper as far as Kate is concerned.

Forgetful Housewives Build Up Laundry's Stockpile

OMAHA, NEB.—Omaha residents are losing their shirts and quite a little other clothing at the new self-service laundrettes.

A survey revealed that forgotten items are piling up at the laundries, left there by forgetful patrons.

Clothing is not the only item left behind by the customers, a laundrette manager said.

"They leave tablecloths, towels, rugs, shirts, ladies' unmentionables, dish rags and mop heads."

Another laundrette reported that one woman overlooked a sheet in the washer. It is still unclaimed.

Enough clothing to outfit one person completely is found in the course of a month at one Omaha establishment.

The operators have a hard time matching up the articles and owners. There is no identification on the forgotten wash and the laundrettes don't keep any record of who uses the machines.

Ruins of Indian Village Are Unearthed in Oklahoma

OKLAHOMA CITY.—The ruins of a small village believed to have flourished between 400 and 600 years ago have been unearthed in this state.

The ruins were excavated by a University of Oklahoma party. A cone-shaped mound, believed to be a tribal burial place, was found in the center of the village and ruins of at least five or six huts have been uncovered.

Since some of the houses were built above others, Bell believes the village was ancient. The houses were built by setting poles 12 to 15 inches apart in the ground, weaving brush and limbs through the poles and then plastering the structure with a sort of adobe mixture similar to that used by the Navajos of today. Roofs of the houses were thatched.

The Everglades are located in southern Florida.

SHORT STORY

Bingo -- The Winner

By
LOUIS CUNNINGHAM

ROCKY FELL, alias Phelan, alias Finn, turned the green coupe in at the sign that said "Meals—Overnight Cabins—Home Cooking." This out-of-the-way tourist camp, deep in Canada's New Brunswick, looked like a natural for Rocky, wanted in a dozen states, with $5,000 for the one who turned him in. Fat chance! They probably were still looking for a blue sedan with Illinois plates.

This number, for instance, came from Arizona. The old bird who owned it never would squawk. A guy was a sucker on a lonely road to offer a stranger a lift.

"You're a pal, mister," said Rocky. He stuck a gun in the old boy's ribs. "Drive down the side road and behave yourself and everything will be lovely." The man, his face gray-green, drove down a narrow track and at the end was an abandoned quarry with lots of water. Rocky drove the coupe back alone. He had the money and passport. He was Phillip Sumpter.

It was easy for Rocky to forget him and a dozen like him. He was looking forward to some home-cooking and a soft bed. He turned the corner of the drive and saw a white house with many gables—Robin's Nest. Sure looked comfy. Cabins here and there among the willows.

"Ob-oh!" A scarlet tunic was talking to an old lady in blue gingham on the steps. Rocky felt the gun under his armpit. Nothing to worry about.

When Rocky stopped the car, the old lady came briskly down. The Mountie went into the house. "Good day, sir. Welcome. I'm the proprietress—one of them. Miss Abby Stubbs. My sister Rachel and I run Robin's Nest. You'd like dinner, a cabin—"

"Sure," grinned Rocky. "Sure Miss Abby—I want the works. Chicken and hot biscuits and coffee—"

"Very good sir. Here's the key of No. 4, the cabin by the pond. Dinner will be ready when you are, Mr.—"

"Sumter—P. H. Sumter." Rocky's gray eyes never left the smiling old blue ones.

"We're so glad to have you, Mr. Sumter. You have no idea," Miss Abby actually dimpled.

"Swell," said Rocky. Just the same, after he had washed up he did not go directly to the front but strolled around to the rear.

"I SAW him first," Dear, Sweet old Miss Abby's voice. "I spoke to him first. It's the money car—it's the one that pays."

"Abby Stubbs! I noticed first I swear I did. You never even got him to register. That's what you were supposed to do—"

"You're trying to cheat me."

"You're trying to cheat me. I know you, Rachel."

"We'll call it a tie. We'll split the money—" Harpies—both of them! Rocky straightened up.

"I have the proof," crowed Miss Abby. "I was talking to Corporal Renault. He stopped for dinner. I told him, and he's waiting and when Mr. Sumter comes in—Well, I'm not going to wait; I'm going to get the corporal now."

That was why Rocky pulled the gun on Corporal Renault when they met at the corner of the house. "Not so easy, copper," Rocky snarled, and stared at the two trembling old sisters behind the Mountie's broad back. "Those old dames can fight some more over the $5,000 prize. I'm not caught yet. Damn you—"

That Mountie was a funny cop. He didn't look boyish any more, though he still was smiling. And he didn't back up. He kept right on coming. The gun roared but its muzzle was knocked up and a flat caught Rocky in the middle. He was still on the lawn when he came to and there was a familiar feel about his wrists. Bracelets.

"Well, it's a pinch, I guess," said Rocky. "I—anyway, those old witches will have to split the dough with you, copper."

Miss Abby and Miss Rachel, said the Mountie, "had a little pool. They put a dollar in it for every car with a different state license-plate. They were up to 47 when you came in with Arizona. Arizona was Bingo. That's how Miss Abby came to claiming the money—$48. It seems there's a bit more coming."

Tattoo on Dog's Leg Simplifies Identification

LOS ANGELES.—At least 500,000 heartaches a year will be saved dog lovers when "identacoding"—tattooing a dog's license number permanently on its leg—becomes a national practice.

The dog tattooing idea first was introduced in the K-9 corps, for positive identification of the canine rookies. It was first used on a civilian basis by H. Graham Conar, internationally known horseman and dog authority, in 1946, in a private dog club he organized in Los Angeles.

The idea received additional impetus when the national dog record bureau, a nonprofit corporation, was started, with Conar as president and James Schermerhorn Jr., former Detroit newspaperman, as vice-president.

Since its inception, the idea has received wide acclaim and acceptance from law enforcement agencies and anticruelty societies all over the nation, Conar claims. According to Alexander Tilley, general manager of the Los Angeles SPCA, and southern California humane society, identacoding will have wider applications than tattooing of pedigreed and valuable pets.

Dogs Are Highly Prized

Many a mutt is so highly prized by a family, they would not consent to sell it for all the tea in China; yet a week is the longest such a mutt will live in a pound. After that, if unclaimed, it is gassed to make room for more hapless little waifs.

"Out of 20 dogs we get at the shelter," Tilley says, "only one is caught with a license tag. Out of 19 dogs, three may be claimed by owners. Out of the 16 remaining, another four may find new owners. The remaining 12 are destroyed. Multiply this number by the number of cities, hamlets and counties, and you get an appalling death toll."

Tilley estimates that 50,000 dogs are destroyed yearly in New York and 25,000 in Los Angeles alone. He thinks that 500,000 is a conservative figure for the number of unfortunate pets which die in the gas chamber every year.

Tags Are Missing

Another argument in favor of dog tattooing, Tilley says, are dog owners themselves. "In the 71 years of our SPCA work," he says, "most of them simply would not be educated to keeping the dog's license tag on him all the time. And usually it is the time when the license tag is off that the pet gets lost."

During the war, when the tags were made of soybean plastic, the dogs used to eat their tags like biscuits, and when caught without identification were just so much closer to the gas chamber.

To prevent dog records from being destroyed in a fire or any other catastrophe, the master microfilmed files are kept in a bank vault in Los Angeles and New York. At the moment the organization is administered from Los Angeles for the western region; from Kansas City for the central region; and from New York for the eastern region. Other offices are being licensed daily and there is even talk of the organization going international within a year, with offices in all principal cities of the world.

Notice to Anglers: New Scooterpoopers Lure Bass

GREENWOOD, S. C. — The day may come when a fisherman will remark to his companion, "You'd better change the record, the bass aren't hitting that one."

If it does, the credit would go to Alex Woodie, Greenwood's fishing jeweler, who has developed a noise-making lure that has proved popular with the local fish and fishermen.

Woodie has long worked on the theory that fish were attracted by certain noises. He made experiments in which he tried to incorporate noise-making qualities into his baits.

One of his first efforts contained the works of a watch. It caught fish, but it proved too expensive and too disposed to break down.

Now he has devised a hollow metal box that amplifies the sound of turning propellers on the bait. He calls it the scooterpooper. It makes a distinct whirring sound as it is retrieved, attracting all the bass within hearing distance.

Eccentric Recluse Wills Greta Garbo Big Tax Bill

ALLEGAN COUNTY, MICH.—Film Actress Greta Garbo will realize little if anything from an estate willed to her by an eccentric recluse, it appears.

A final account filed in probate court here of the American assets of the late Edgar Donne, Allegan county farmer, revealed $1,119 with claims and taxes of $2,099 due.

Approximately $19,999 in assets in England also probably will be wiped out by inheritance taxes, court officials believe.

Spokesmen for Miss Garbo said that whatever proceeds accrued from the estate of the 76-year-old Donne, who had never seen the actress, would go to charity.

The land is the nation's No. 1 economic problem.

Many Wild Weeds Provide Ample Food in Dire Emergencies

ORLANDO, FLA. — So far as Nibokawa, the Wise Woodsman, is concerned, you can forget the high price of food in Florida—if you want to go back to nature.

Nibokawa is the name the Indians give naturalist and educator Oliver Perry Medsger, 78, whose writings, teachings and studies have made him nationally known among scientists.

One of his books is "Edible Wild Plants" and from it you learn that many weeds you thought only a nuisance can save you from starving. The May apple he recommends highly.

It isn't a fruit or flower, leaf or root. It's just a growth found on the wild honeysuckle and yet Medsger says it is delicious raw or in salad, spiced or pickled.

There are the wild sweet potato; nut grass; and fruits of the cultivated palms. But he discourages use of the excellent palmetto bud because it kills the tree.

He says young bracken shoots can be cooked and dressed like asparagus, as can the tender shoots of pokeweed, chickweed, sorrel and milkweed.

The milkweed, he says, is another all-purpose edible. Its shoots can be used for greens, the unripe pods eaten like okra, and a coarse brown sugar may be made from the flowers.

Medsger says the Indians would have died without arrowroot which is common in the swamps. He also names a wide variety of wild fruits and berries and says:

"If worst comes to worst, we can always eat grass. All the grasses are perfectly wholesome and nutritious."

Brown Thrush Has Narrow Escapes in Noisy City

ATLANTA, GA.—City life was just too much for this unhappy, confused brown thrush.

The bird got caught in a whirl of traffic on busy Forsyth street. Fluttering under automobiles and trolleys, it caused a traffic jam. Horns blared and tires screamed.

Cheating death by inches, the bird finally reached the sidewalk. Dignified businessmen skittered about trying to catch the elusive thrush in their hats.

It darted into a hotel lobby, avoiding capture until it dropped from exhaustion.

Its captor put the bird in a box and said that he would take it back to the country.

Reporter in Russ Garb Tests Army's Security

ALISO CANYON, CALIF. — A self-styled RUSSIAN army colonel seized as he watched maneuvers of United States naval and marine units, was identified as a reporter planted by his newspaper "to test" security precautions at the war games.

The San Diego Journal said the man, who first identified himself to military police as a Russian army officer, was John d'Alfonso.

Brig. Gen. Omar T. Pfeiffer, chief of staff of the Camp Pendleton marine barracks, said the reporter would be turned over to the FBI because he had no credentials and was wearing the uniform of a foreign government.

Wearing a Russian uniform rented from a costume shop, D'Alfonso was picked up as he watched the large-scale maneuvers from a canyon side reserved for civilian spectators.

Podunk—Yes, There Is Such A Town—Wants Recognition

PODUNK, MASS. — Residents of Podunk have determined to let the world know that there really is such a community and that it is a nice place to live and has modern improvements.

Because lexicographers have ignored Podunk and newspaper men have banded the name about in a jocular manner, folks here have decided to speak up.

President Robert S. Wakeman, of the Podunk community club, reported that plans were being made to invite lexicographers and newspapermen to a sightseeing tour and a dinner.

They'll have to travel five miles south of East Brookfield among the wooded Worcester county hills.

Bathtubs Are on Way Out As Showers Gain Popularity

CLEVELAND. — The sit-and-soak method of bathing is slowly joining the old wooden tub in front of the kitchen stove as a thing of the past, a survey of observers on the postwar bathing scene shows.

Blame it on the war, they said. The tub is going down the drain to make way for the shower.

"During the war, people got accustomed to taking showers," Charles Jauch, secretary of the Cleveland Builders Exchange, said. "There were no tubs on dreadnaughts or in barracks for the men in service. Priorities made it difficult for civilians to get tubs."

"People learned to prefer the speed and efficiency of showers."

East Coast Fishermen Boost Herring Catches for Europe

BLOCK ISLAND, R. I.—The fish in Block Island sound are feeling the effects of the European Recovery plan.

Millions of herring — left undisturbed in the past for lack of a market — are being caught to feed the hungry abroad. Huge trailers are carrying the silvery, foot-long fish to canning factories on the eastern shore of Maryland and to Maine.

Carl Johnson, veteran fishing captain, explained they had been in the sound for years. "But," he said, "this is the first year we've handled them. The large majority are canned for the new type of lend-lease for Europe. We're trying to knock a couple of billion dollars off the Marshall plan figures."

More than 3½ million pounds of herring have been caught since the run started. Large balloon nets dragged along the shore bottom are used to snare them. The best place to find the herring is from three to nine miles out.

The herring found the sound a good place to escape whales.

A few investigations when there is no election in sight would help, too.

We note that the Chinese used umbrellas 3,000 years ago, so borrowing must be an old, old custom.

Lots of people's incomes are what they can't live without or within.
